

Name: Cassandra McZeal

Company: ExxonMobil

Job Title: Modeling, Optimization & Data Science Supervisor, Opportunity Evaluation & Analysis

Fun Fact about you:

I taught myself to sew in graduate school as a stress reliever. I've made some pretty impressive Halloween costumes and prom dresses over the years, if I do say so myself.

What's been your favorite Women's Initiative moment?

Any opportunity to serve alongside my daughters: wrapping gifts at Wrap & Wine and stuffing backpacks for back-to-school.

What keeps you giving to United Way?

I give to United Way because giving back to my community is not simply an obligation but a privilege, and United Way is a fantastic steward of resources and ensures that outcome-driven programs are identified and supported. I am honored to play my small part "connecting people to possibility."

What song would you choose to play every time you walk into a room?

As the mother of two girls, oldest of four girls, and native Houstonian, it's most definitely Run The World (Girls) by Beyonce.